Dark Web is like the Bad Part of Town (featuring Tor Project + the IRS)

JUNE 8TH, 2020 | 34:14 | S1:E6

EPISODE DETAILS / TRANSCRIPT

EPISODE SUMMARY

Andrew Lewman (Co-Founder/CEO @ Tor Project) and Gary Aflord (Supervisory Special Agent @ IRS) take us on a journey to the anonymous internet, and recount the incredible story of the Silk Road aka “the Amazon for drugs.” In this episode of SSBT, we answer the question, “What is the dark web?” and discuss what it reveals about humanity. Hosted by Mauhan M Zonoozy. Powered by BCG Digital Ventures.

EPISODE NOTES

Andrew Lewman is the Co-Founder and former CEO of The Tor Project, the non-profit behind the Tor browser, the most well-known and widely-used dark web internet browser. Andrew is a globally renowned internet security and dark web expert, and works with the U.S. government and its allies, as well as Interpol’s Crimes Against Children Initiative. Andrew has helped co-found several tech and security companies, including TechTarget, Farsight Security, and DarkOwl.

Gary Alford is a Supervisory Special Agent at the Internal Revenue Service. He is most well-known as the sleuth that helped crack the infamous Silk Road online drug trafficking case, specifically by helping unmask Dread Pirate Roberts, the site’s creator.

SSBT is hosted by Mauhan M Zonoozy, founder of Bubbl (acquired by Cricket Media), NYC-based angel investor, and Venture Architect Director at BCG Digital Ventures.
